Who can become an Early Help Champion?

Early Help Champions are passionate about practice and support the ongoing implementation within their own service area.

They work within our children's and adult's workforce across the county and will provide some support and advice for their own organisation.

The aim is for each organisation signed up to the Cumbria Safeguarding Children Partnership, (CSCP), to have at least one Early Help Champion.

The Role of Early Help Champions

Improve practice

- To improve Early Help practice and services for families.
- Create good practice examples to support colleagues.
- Share good practice examples with the Early Help Officers.
- Link with the Early Help team regarding any challenges, to ensure the continuous development and improvement of Early Help.

The Role of Early Help Champions

- Keep up to date with local arrangements, such as how and who to share concerns about a child with and referral processes.
- Keep up to date with local policy and procedures.
- To identify gaps in provision/practice and feed this back through Early Help Champions forums.

The Role of Early Help Champions

Share knowledge

- Attend bespoke Early Help Champions training and cascade the learning to colleagues.
- To ensure Early Help is a regular agenda item on their agencies team meetings.
- To be a point of contact and offer colleagues support.
- Circulate relevant information, campaigns, updates, and resources internally within their organisation/department.

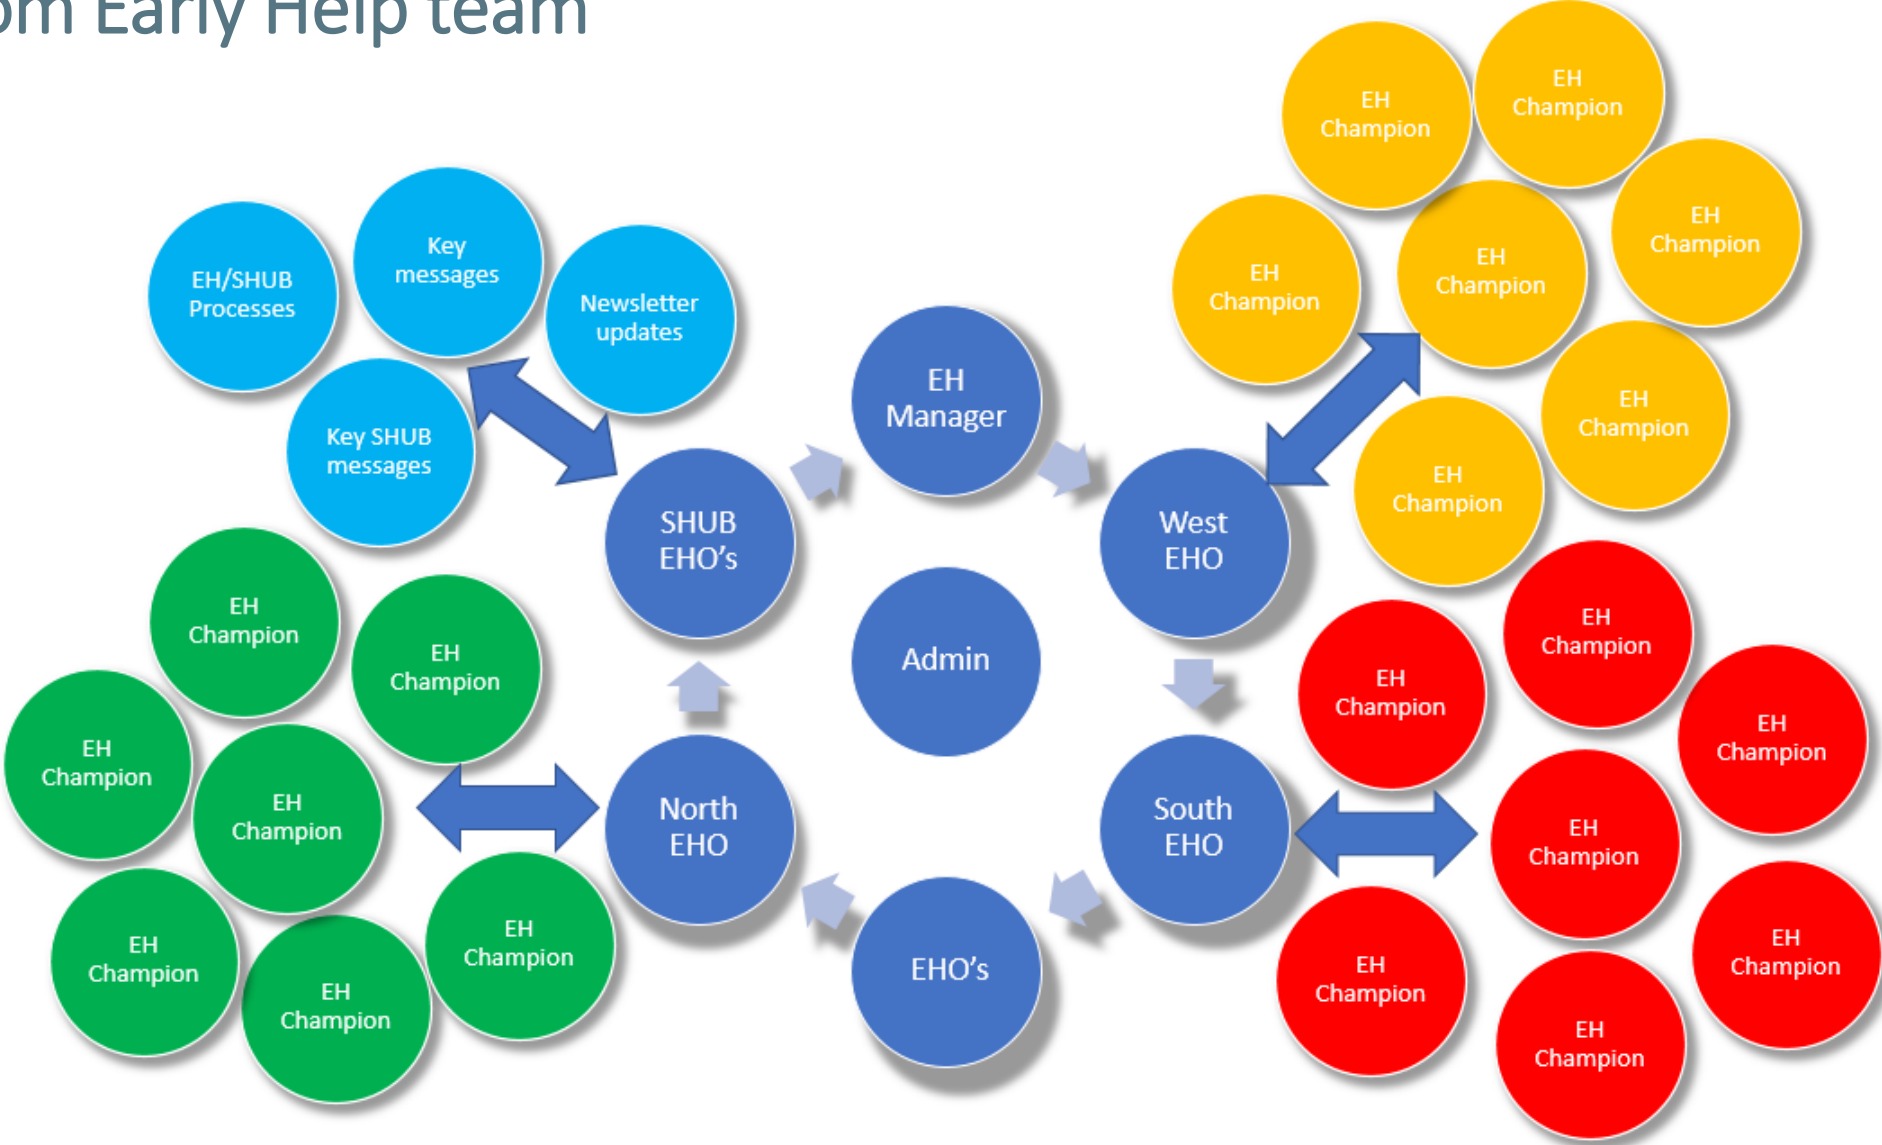

The Role of Early Help Champions

- To provide advice and signposting in relation to Early Help.
- Meet on a regular basis at Network meetings to add to their knowledge and to build professional relationships.
- Share common themes, learning and challenges and have theirs and other Early Help practitioners' voices heard at practice and strategic level.

The role of the Early Help Team and CSCCP:

- To maintain the contact details for Cumbria Early Help Champions.
- To ensure access to Peer support through forums.
- To provide a regular newsletter.
- To provide information, resources and learning opportunities.

Requirements of Early Help Champions

The Early Help Team and the CSCP require Early Help Champions:

- To have completed Early Help eLearning and level 2, part A and B, (or be booked on A & B).
- Have support from their line manager.
- Have a keen interest in ongoing learning and keep themselves up to date through attending at least one day of training per year related to Early Help.

How do I become an Early Help Champion?

- It is for each organisation to decide who is best placed within their organisation to be the Early Help Champion, and to decide if the role rests with one person or a number of people.
- Staff wishing to act as an early Help Champion for their organisation or department should firstly seek consent from their manager.

Management support:

Colleagues who are interested in this role should discuss with their team manager and if agreed, send a request for the Terms of Reference and application form to: Early Help Mailbox
