Purpose

From 11 November 2021, anyone working or volunteering in a care home will need to be fully vaccinated against coronavirus (COVID-19), unless exempt.

The independent Scientific Advisory Group for Emergencies (SAGE) Social Care Working Group has highlighted that people living in care homes have been significantly impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic due to a combination of a heightened risk of severe outcomes following COVID-19 infection and the risk of outbreaks in these closed settings.

They have advised that a vaccination uptake rate of 80% in staff and 90% in residents in each individual care home setting would be needed to provide a minimum level of protection against outbreaks of COVID-19, recognising that current or emergent variants may require even higher levels of coverage and/or new vaccines to sustain levels of protection and that higher coverage and both doses would result in more protection. Only 65% of care homes in England are currently meeting this dual threshold.

A COVID-19 vaccine, like most vaccinations, also has benefits that go beyond the benefits felt by the vaccinated individual. By vaccinating the social care workforce, additional benefits to society include a reduction in the rate of transmission by the workforce among the remainder of the workforce, care home residents and the wider community. In addition, the vaccine will reduce the likelihood of social care workers falling ill as a result of COVID-19 and needing to isolate or be absent from work.

Reducing the spread of the virus will have further positive impacts by reducing hospital admissions and the consequential cost of dealing with hospital treatments.

There remains a strong case for introducing a new requirement to make high-risk environments as safe as possible from the effects of COVID-19. Consequently, all CQC-registered care homes, in England, providing accommodation for persons who require nursing or personal care, to only allow persons to enter a care home if they meet one of the following requirements:

- the person is a service user of the regulated activity in the premises used by the registered person
- the person has provided the registered person with evidence that satisfies the registered person they have been vaccinated with the complete course of an authorised vaccine
- the person has provided the registered person with evidence that satisfies the registered person that for clinical reasons they should not be vaccinated
- it is reasonably necessary for the person to provide emergency assistance in the premises
- it is reasonably necessary for the person to provide urgent maintenance assistance to the premises
- the person is a member of the emergency services in execution of their duties
- that a person is a friend or relative of the service user visiting the service user
- the person is visiting a dying service user
- it is reasonably necessary for the person to provide comfort or support to a service user in relation to a service user's bereavement following the death of a relative or friend; or the person is under the age of 18

The registered person must secure that the requirement is complied with.

Data Collection

Your Rights - Other

In addition to your right of access the UKGDPR also gives you the following rights:

- the right to be informed via the council's Privacy Notice
- the right to withdraw your consent. If we are relying on your consent to process your data then you can remove this at any point
- the right of rectification, we must correct inaccurate or incomplete data within one month
- the right to erasure. You have the right to have your personal data erased and to prevent processing unless we have a legal obligation to process your personal information
- the right to restrict processing. You have the right to suppress processing. We can retain just enough information about you to ensure that the restriction is respected in future
- the right to data portability. We can provide you with your personal data in a structured, commonly used, machine readable form when asked
- the right to object. You can object to your personal data being used for profiling, direct marketing or research purposes
- you have rights in relation to automated decision making and profiling, to reduce the risk that a potentially damaging decision is taken without human intervention.

Where our processing of your personal data is based on your consent, you have the right to withdraw your consent at any time. If you do decide to withdraw your consent we will stop processing your personal data for that purpose, unless there is another lawful basis we can rely on – in which case, we will let you know. Your withdrawal of your consent won't impact any of our processing up to that point.

Where our processing of your personal data is necessary for our legitimate interests, you can object to this processing at any time. If you do this, we will need to show either a compelling reason why our processing should continue, which overrides your interests, rights and freedoms or that the processing is necessary for us to establish, exercise or defend a legal claim.
