Emotional Health during Transition

Starting primary school is an exciting time but can also be a big change for children and families. For many children this may be the first time they have been away from family in a more formal or group setting and for some starting primary school may increase anxiety. At this time it is important to remember that parents and carers can feel anxious about their child starting school too; being mindful not to transfer worries to your child will help them worry less. Staff, parents and carers working together can help manage anxiety and worries.

What is Separation Anxiety?

It's common for children to be anxious about being separated from their parent or caregiver - this is often an indication that a child has developed a healthy attachment to them.

Understanding how to manage separation is an important part of a child's normal social and emotional development. For most children, feeling anxious about this separation is a temporary phase and can be supported by teachers. Books are a great way to help children understand and normalise their feelings. These popular books have a very reassuring tone that explains for example that although mummy sometimes has to go away she will come back.

Mindful Activities

For children who become easily overwhelmed Mindfulness can offer an easy way to help them get 'back on track'. Mindfulness is a method of introducing relaxation; this can be done together with you or on their own when needed. There are many different types of relaxation techniques, that are all designed to help us improve happiness, general behaviour, concentration and confidence. Cumbria County Council have a Mindfulness Ideas Booklet containing activities for you to try.

Free Parenting Courses

All parents and carers can now access free Solihull online parenting courses if you live in or your child attends an educational establishment in Cumbria. They are for ALL parents-to-be, parents, grandparents or carers of any child from bump to age 18 years. FREE with the access code WORDSWORTH.

Starting school can be scary for some children, but believe it or not, it might be worse for care givers. So don't forget every parent/carer will have some kind of worry or concern with their child starting school. Whether that be: "they'll miss me", "they may wet themselves", "they won't eat lunch", "they won't make friends" or "they won't drink water." Starting school is a developmental milestone so its OK to feel sad but feeling bad about feeling sad just makes things worse. Give yourself permission to be sad.

It's important to remember that you're not alone in this, that all parents feel this way. Talk to other parents in the same situation. It's amazing what wonderful support you can get from other parents.
